Parents and guardians are responsible for ensuring that their child is healthy and prepared for the camp. They must sign the enrollment agreement, where they agree to present information concerning their child's medical condition to all responsible parties. The consent form requires parent or guardian signatures for minors.

The camp offers various sessions with different age groups and time slots. Parents can choose the session that best fits their child's availability.

In terms of drop-off and pick-up, parents are expected to arrive at the camp early. The camp provides transportation to and from the camp, and parents are informed about the specific instructions for each session.

The camp focuses on developing leadership, confidence, fundamentals, and skills in football. It includes sessions on reading and attacking a defense, leadership, confidence, fundamentals, skills, game management, ball handling, and improving one's arm strength and touch passing.

There is a mandatory early registration before July 14th to benefit from the discounted rates. Registration forms and consent forms are available online.

In case of emergency, parents are instructed to contact the camp director immediately. The camp provides emergency contact information and instructions on how to coordinate with medical authorities. Parents are also informed about the camp's address and contact information.

The camp provides a variety of promotional materials, including discounts and special alerts. Parents are encouraged to check the website for updates and additional information.

In summary, the 3D QB Quarterback Camp offers a comprehensive program for developing young athletes, with a focus on leadership, confidence, and football fundamentals. Parents are encouraged to register early to secure their child's spot and to ensure they are well-prepared for the camp experience.